

Rainbow pie

Chatting in the wood, the Cheshire Cat asked Alice to bake a rainbow pie for it.

"I wish I could!" said Alice apologetically. "I don't know how to bake at all."

"Oh, my, you are so funny!" grinned the Cheshire Cat.

"You can tell that you cannot do something before knowing if you'll be successful. Haven't you ever done a thing that you didn't think you could do, when you started?"

"Well...let me think of it," Alice thought for a while, "diving in the sea was something scary for me and I never thought I could do it. But when I spent the summer holidays in Thailand last year, my sisters took me to a one-day diving session with them, and I discovered how fun the diving is. I saw some sea turtles there!"

"So, you just didn't know how to dive YET till then and just needed to give it a try." said the Cheshire Cat, handing Alice a piece of paper. It was the recipe of the rainbow pie. The cat gradually vanished with a grin.

"I don't know how to make the pie YET, but thought Alice, "I'll get the ingredients first".

it can be fun!"

The Power of YET!

Simply adding YET to your 'cannot' is a magic word that opens up your possibilities!

Write down three things that you want to do or learn but you are not able to do now. Complete the sentences with the word YET.

I cannot YET

I cannot YET

I cannot YET

Choose one thing from the above and tell me what you can do to be able to do it...

I can...
